more than music

a radio program devoted to fostering social change through awareness, organization, and activism.

more than music

tuesdays 6-8pm on 88.1 fm WBGU

Realizing the importance of education, the "more than music" program aims to educate its listeners through relevent discussions concerning social and political issues. The discussions primarily focus on progressive education and knowledge and how they can be used to encourage positive social change for today's society. The taped programs will be aired on Tuesday evenings from 6 to 8 pm on 88.1fm WBGU. The following is a list of up-coming programs for the next six weeks. Please feel free to call 372.2826 if you have any questions.

September 24th: "Human Rights and the US." America's favorite "Social Libertarian," Noam Chomsky discusses society's current standing as gatekeepers of democracy. New and recommended stuff from the person who brought us "Manufacturing Consent" and "Prospects for Democracy."

October 1st.: "I Blow Minds For a Living." Jello Biafra brings us I Was A Teenage Pascifist, If Voting Changed Anything, Running For Mayor ,and other pieces in his unimitable, sarcastic style.

October 8th: "Killing Rage: Ending Racism." Bell Hooks delivers an excellent presentation on race, class, gender and contemporary culture.

October 15th: "Manufacturing Consent: Media and Propaganda." presented by Noam Chomsky. The media present themselves as objective, but reality suggests a different construct. The media are large conglomerates that serve to mobilize support for the special interests that dominate state and corporate power. In democratic societies, populations are not controlled by force. Rather they are subject to more refined forms of ideological manipulation. Necessary illusions are created. Consent is manufactured. The public is marginalized.

October 22nd: "You Can't Be Neutral On A Moving Train." Howard Zinn speaks on the importance of education and activism as well as the obsolescence of apathy.

October 29th: "The Clinton Vision: Old Wine, New Bottles." Just in time for the national election, we recap Noam Chomsky's response to Clinton's election in 1992. Chomsky speaks on the President's actions on NAFTA, health care, crime, labor relations, foreign policy and the economy.

November 5th: SUPER TUESDAY SURPRISE!!!

November 12th: "Corporate Control of Information." Herbert Schiller discusses what the media has dubbed the dawn of the information superhighway. The discussion focuses on the corporate control of the highway's entrances, exits and toll booths.
